o be held at Pendleton. The following were named: . W. Hervey, James Collins, James Duna, S. Arett, and Jackson A. Simes. On motion, James Huff, and S. Arnett were apointed a committee to select delegates to represent the township in the congressional convention to be olden at Indianapolis, who reported the following : oseph Wright, William Philpot, Landen Eastes, ohn Collins, and J. W. Hervey. On motion, J. W. Hervey was appointed to draft esolutions expressive of the feelings of the meeting. The following were reported. Resolved, That we will abide the decision of the bove named conventions, and cheerfully co-operate with the democratic party in effecting the election of Resolved. That we still are actuated by a sincere esire for truth, and that our hearts beat in unison or our mutual good, our country's greatness, and the appiness of the human family. Resolved. That we concur with our brother demorats in the belief, that it is right to defend our connry's honor, and contend for her claims and privi-eges, though it cost us our lives; we would rather ave a patriot's grave than a coward's shame. Resolved. That the proceedings of this meeting be igned by the president and secretary, and published in the State Sentinel. JAMES HODGES, President. J. W. HERVEY, Secretary.

"ALL THE LEARNING."-The Pennsylvanian says that a vote was recently taken by the citizens of Heidelberg, Lehigh county, on the acceptance of the common school system, and stood—for acceptance 21, against 136! Heidelberg generally polls a unanimous vote for the federal ticket. SIGNIFICATION OF MEXICAN NAMES. - " Almost every name given to a town or other locality in Mexico is in honor of some saint or hero, or denotes some peculiarity of the places, thus: Brazos Santiago or St. Jaco—Arms of St. James; Vera Gruz—true cross; Saltillo—a leap; Monterey—monntain king: Agua Nueva—new water; Corpus Christi (Latin)—body of Christ; La Vacca—the cow; Neuces-nuts; Lobos-wolf; seals are called sea wolves by the Spaniards, and hence the name of the island signifies more properly seal island."

Time of PLANTING IRISH POTATOES .- An old and successful cultivator of Irish potatoes in this neighborhood is of the opinion that the late crop of pota-toes ought to be planted between the 10th and 20th of May. He thinks they can be kept clear of grass more readily than the early potatoes, and that they generally meet with copious showers of rain in August when they most require it. The general practice in this immediate neighborhood is to plant in March or early in April when the season is favorable.

A daughter of Col. Benton was married recently at Washington to a Mr. Jones, formerly of New Orleans. There was a large company, and President Polk gave the bride to her husband.
